

THE DRAGON'S APPRAISER: PART ONE

What can she offer the dragon who could have anything? Left at the mercy of a dragon god, Madja must use her encyclopedic knowledge of ancient artifacts to charm him into sparing her life. She will change everything... Enchanted by the human's stories, the world-weary dragon discovers a whole new depth to existence. This is the first novella in an ongoing story. It contains mature content and is unsuitable for readers under the age of 18.

Peek Inside the Book

He was annoyed. But not at her. At himself at his own inability to do more for her. Then, he became annoyed with her for making him annoyed with himself. Viola Rivard, The Dragon's Appraiser: Part One //

Why are you covering your breasts? Turning her back to him, she stepped into her dress. Why are you so interested in my breasts? I am only interested in them because you hide them, he informed her. I would not find them interesting if you would stop wearing clothing. Viola Rivard, The Dragon's Appraiser: Part One //

Reader's Opinions

I received this ARC in exchange for my honest review. I gave this book 4 stars. It's about a girl named Madja who is left as a sacrifice to appease the Dragon God Sevrn. She seems to have a bad lot in life, and taking some of the treasure that was left prior seemed like the thing to do since she wasn't all that sure the Dragon existed....
