

SAVING CONGRESS FROM ITSELF: EMANCIPATING THE STATES AND EMPOWERING THEIR PEOPLE

Saving Congress from Itself proposes a single reform: eliminate all federal grants-in-aid to state and local governments. This action would reduce federal spending by over $600 billion a year and have a profound effect on how we govern ourselves. The proliferation of federal grants-in-aid programs is of recent vintage: only about 100 such grants existed before Lyndon Johnson took office, and now they number more than 1,100. Eliminating...

Reader's Opinions

This short monograph by the former NY senator (aka Bill's brother) offers one sweeping change to how we govern in this country--eliminate all grants from the federal government to the states. The reasons for doing so are the bulk of the book, so I won't recapitulate them here. Basically, these grants...
